

Nebo Youth Philharmonic Orchestra

By: Haleigh Brown

Three Salem JHS Spartans, Colton Wilding, Abby Brown, and Haleigh Brown, are members of a very unique group: the Nebo Youth Philharmonic Orchestra. This is a group of musicians from band and orchestra from the five high schools in the Nebo School District. They often have rare and special experiences that most people their age do not have the opportunity to have. On February 11, 2013 the Philharmonic Orchestra had the opportunity to play at the Abrauvanel Concert Hall in Salt Lake City. Abrauvanel Hall is the most amazing concert hall in Utah. Of course this is only my opinion, but the inside of this building is incredible. There are giant chandeliers hanging from the ceiling are beautiful and the acoustics are incredible. The Philharmonic Orchestra is a talented group of young musicians who enjoy what they do. They are looking forward to more special experiences.
