

The Best Teacher Ever

Señor Harrison teaches Spanish at Salem Jr. High School. He says that he loves to teach because of the students. He has fun creative ways to help the students learn Spanish. While he's teaching, he recognizes the students' strengths and weaknesses. Señor Harrison is also very involved in the students' interests and what they enjoy. These qualities make him a fun and interesting teacher.

Señor Harrison teaches because he loves it. His students say that because he loves to teach, it makes class fun. When you do something that you love, it can be addicting. Señor Harrison's students look forward to his class because they know they will learn something interesting and because they know that he cares about their learning. Next year Senor Harrison will be moving to Colorado. His students are sad that he's leaving because they love him and his fun lessons.

Señor Harrison teaches in creative ways. It's a lot easier to learn a new language when it's fun and the teacher gives you ways to remember vocab and verb conjugations. This is exactly what Señor Harrison does. He has had a lot of experience interacting with Spanish speakers and so he knows how native Spanish speakers talk. This helps him explain to students the common terms used in certain countries. When he was learning Spanish he learned helpful tricks. These tricks include anything from songs to jokes. One great thing about Señor Harrison is that he is fun and helps his students learn using creative tricks and personal experiences.

Señor Harrison not only cares about how well his students are learning, he cares about how their personal lives are going. At the beginning of each Spanish class, students are given three minutes to speak in English about what is going on in the world or what they have been doing. This is called the English Oasis. During this time, Señor Harrison often teaches important life lessons and how to act when interacting with people in different Hispanic countries. Señor Harrison is great at incorporating life lessons for his students; these life lessons are an important strength of his teaching.

Señor Harrison is a fun teacher that his students look up to. He creates fun ways to teach his students, because he loves them. Not only does he teach them Spanish, he teaches them life lessons. Any one of these things would make Señor Harrison an awesome teacher, but combined it makes him one of best teachers at his school. All around Señor Harrison is a great teacher, and Salem Junior High will miss for years to come.
